"When you live on a remote island, the rest of the world can feel distant and unconcerned with the challenges you face. However, through Daystar, I'm reminded that God always knows exactly where to find me. He loves me and shares His heart over and over through your programming. God bless you!"

A LEGACY OF FAITH

WITH PASTORS MATT & JOHN HAGEE

Q: Pastor John, as a father and grandfather, what does celebrating Father's Day mean to you?

JH: Every child comes into the world with the message that God is not weary with mankind. Father's Day in truth is every day. Every day the sun comes up your children need your love, your guidance, your time, and your assurance that they are the most important thing in your life.

When my children were home, they knew that if they called my office and I was on the phone with a U.S. Senator, he would be put on hold until I found out what they needed and if I could solve the problem. I went to every school function they had if I was in town. I don't care if they were playing the part of a potted plant on stage - I was there! Your money is a cheap substitute for your time. You can buy your child too many things, but you can't give your child too much love. That's why Father's Day is every day.

Q: Pastor Matt, you knew from a very young age that you wanted to be a preacher like your father. Describe the moment you shared that with your dad and how he responded.

MH: There has never been a day that I can remember, that I did not know that I was supposed to be the Pastor of Cornerstone Church. I didn't feel like I was supposed to be a pastor or in ministry. I knew that God wanted me to be the pastor of Cornerstone. When I turned 13, Dad and I sat down and he let me know what was required to be a Pastor. He was very direct about the amount of effort it would take, the work that was required, and the kind of character and behaviors that were nonnegotiable. My father has always been very truthful with His children, and while there were times we probably wished he would have sugar-coated the conversation, he always spoke the truth in love. I am so very blessed that my father has always supported the call of God on my life and been a tremendous mentor and leader for me to follow.

Q: Pastor Matt, how has your father's example in life and ministry impacted you?

MH: To say that my father's example has impacted me is like asking the clay if the potter played a role in making it into a vessel. Without a doubt, who I am as a pastor, husband, father, and leader is a testament to the love, diligence, and effort that my father gave of himself to shape me.

Q: Pastor John, you recently celebrated 60 years in ministry and officially passed the torch to Pastor Matt, appointing him Lead Pastor of Cornerstone Church.

Describe how it feels to see your rich legacy of faith continue through your son.

JH: On the Sunday that I passed the torch to Matthew, I recited the names of Hagee Preachers for the past 200 years in our family legacy. I am the 47th descendant of the original John Hagee to preach the Gospel of Jesus Christ all of my life; Matthew will be the 48th. In our family it's a matter of "who's next?" Matthew has two sons, and if Jesus carries one of them will be a preacher of the Gospel.

Q: Pastor Matt, when you think of the many things you've learned from your dad over the years, what lesson or piece of advice stands out the most?

MH: There are so many things I could say to answer that question, that someday I should write them all in a book. But here are just a few of the statements that echo in my soul when I consider what my father has taught me.

- 1) "The secret to success is to find out what God wants to do, and do that!"
- 2) "Some prayer, some power. More prayer, more power. Much prayer, much power!"
- 3) "There is no substitute for preaching the Word of God."
- 4) "Fear not for the Lord God is with you!"
- 5) "For Zion's sake I will not keep silent, and for Jerusalem's sake I'll not hold my peace."

Q: Pastor John, how can God use fathers to lay a strong spiritual foundation and impart blessings to the next generation?

JH: God can only use fathers that obey the Word of God. Teach your child to obey, to love God, to work, to honor parents, to be excellent, to be persistence, and focused. Fight for what you stand for, and remember that quitting is never an option.

Q: How has the Bible shaped your understanding of what it means to be a good father?

JH: The Bible is the only book I've ever read that's worth the ink on the pages about how to raise your children.

MH: The Word of God is what framed the world. The Bible is the compass of every human being's life. If they don't use the compass, they will always be searching for direction rather than walking in it. As a father, the Word is the most effective and powerful source a parent has. It not only holds me accountable to my responsibilities, but it gives me the power to protect, provide for, and empower my children to be used by God to bring Him glory and honor in their generation.

Dear Partners & Friends,

I was honored to represent you a few days ago in Israel at the dedication of the U.S. Embassy as it was moved from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem!

This move represented that the United State recognizes Jerusalem as the eternal capital of Israel! And this was on May 14, the 70th Anniversary of the rebirth of the nation of Israel. (The 70th Anniversary will last until May 14, 2019.)

The entire Lamb Family is rejoicing over the marriage of Rebecca Lamb to Jonathan Weiss on May 18!

Rebecca looked like a beautiful princess in a majestic cathedral! It truly seemed like a royal wedding. Yet it was a very spiritual service with a great anointing of the Holy Spirit! And of course, I cried and cried because Rebecca is "Daddy's Baby."

There were also several elements that related to Jewish roots that were biblically based. Pastor Jimmy Evans officiated at the ceremony. In a few weeks, we will be showing an edited version of the wedding on Daystar. And we will let you know when it will be.

Please pray for Rebecca and Jonathan as they begin their lives together. I believe they are going to do great things for God and make a tremendous impact.

Summer "Heart For The World" will be June 25 – July 2. So I hope you will watch & pray.

Your Daystar continues to grow and expand around the world! Recently, TSTT Cable and Green Dot Cable in Trinidad launched Daystar. And Trico Cable in Tobago launched Daystar.
