FROM THE DESK OF MARCUS LAMB

Hello New York City!!!

Dear Partners & Friends,

What a great Spring Sharathon we had! Joni & I and the entire Daystar team, are still rejoicing over the wonderful response. Thank you, thank you, thank you!

Remember what I have said many times, “The sooner you get your seed into the ground, the sooner your harvest will come.”

So I encourage you to send in your pledge today. God will honor your act of faith, and we will use it to win souls literally around the world.

We had two new Sharathon guests: Apostle Ron Carpenter of Redemption World Outreach in Joni’s hometown of Greenville, SC and Evangelist Dwight Thompson of Southern California. Plus, an international guest we haven’t had in a while, Bishop Matthew Ashimolowo from London, England. He is the Pastor of Kingsway International Christian Center where I have preached several times. (It is the largest church in Western Europe.)

Here is a great praise report. Your Daystar grew by 11% in 2011. To God be all of the glory.

And Daystar continues to grow in 2012. On February 15th, Daystar launched on Time Warner Cable in New York City on channel 187 to over one million homes, which is about three million people! New York City is the largest city in America and Daystar is now covering virtually all of it with:

- Over the air TV station, WKOB-TV 42
- Cablevision
- Time Warner Cable
- Comcast Cable
- DirecTV
- DISH Network
- Verizon FiOS
- AT&T U-verse

Thank you, Partners, for your faithfulness. You are making an impact on the New York City metropolitan area with close to 20 million souls!

Yours For Christian Television,

Marcus D. Lamb

“I was so blessed to be part of Daystar’s Sharathon tonight. My heart’s desire is to get the Gospel out to the nations, and especially to bless Israel. My heart is glad. And the Lord’s home, Israel, will hear the Gospel until the Father sends Jesus. God bless you Daystar, Marcus, Joni and all who hear.” Millisa

At the tender age of sixteen, Maewyn Succat was taken prisoner by a group of Irish pirates who were attacking his family’s estate in Britain; they later sold him as a slave in Ireland. For the next six years he worked as a shepherd. Lonely and afraid, he turned to God and became a devout Christian. After escaping and fleeing back to Wales, he was guided by dreams where an angel instructed him to return

My Story

God has allowed me to go through some storms over the past couple of months. During this time, I’ve experienced God like no other time in my life. He has strengthened me! I’ve learned to embrace my storms as opposed to running from them. God has done a great work in my life, turning my life around! I live totally for God!!! I praise God for the GREAT things he’s done, and the GREAT things to come!

to Ireland. Fifteen years later he returned as an evangelist and preached where no one had ever done so. Now, 1580 years after Maewyn Succat became known as Saint Patrick, the Lord is speaking to His people about a final assignment to defeat “secular humanism,” which is the antithesis of all Judeo-Christianity. Its defeat will require an inter-faith, tenacious, spiritual revolution committed to fostering a modern day awakening to righteousness. Like Saint Patrick, if we hope to change the face of our nation, we must embrace a recommitment to moral and spiritual purity, armed with the power of the Gospel. For the sake of America and national virtue – let every man and woman who knows El Elyon rise up in prayer daily, and take our nation back!

again, when in fact God can take those difficult moments in our lives and turn them for good to help others. Instead of focusing on the negative, why not start turning those negatives into positives. None of us are immune from the storms of life. Just as it rains upon the just and the unjust, the difference for us as believers is the fact that God is always with us and will see us through every difficulty. Spring is coming... look around, smell the flowers, take a deep breath and begin again. God is not through with you and the best is yet to come!
